SEI Implements Assette Software for Institutional Client Reporting Assette Presentations and Assette Statements Add Flexibility and Efficiency

BOSTON, MA - December 15, 2008 - Assette announced today that SEI (NASDAQ:SEIC), a leading global provider of outsourced asset management, investment processing and investment operations solutions, has implemented Assette software as part of the company's institutional client reporting capabilities. SEI has been using various types of Assette software since 1999 and recently added Assette Presentations and Assette Statements as part of the company's new, enhanced institutional client reporting platform.

"Assette's software has enhanced our ability to provide timely and detailed reporting to our institutional clients" said Foster Eleoterio, technology director for SEI's Institutional Group. "Our internal client relationship team can use the new platform to quickly respond to increasing client requests for information."

Assette Presentations allows marketing and client service staff at asset management firms to customize their sales and client meeting presentations in PowerPoint format. Assette Statements enables asset managers to create similar customized reports in PDF format and, if required, electronically deliver the reports to investors. Boston-based Assette is the leading provider of presentation and client reporting applications for the asset management industry.

"Given the current market environment and demand for transparency, it is especially important that client service staff spend time managing relationships instead of on mundane report preparation" said Thusith Mahanama, Assette's chief executive officer. He continued "Assette is laser focused on delivering the tools necessary for marketing and client service staff to concentrate on what they do best - growing and retaining assets. The name of the game today is nurturing relationships".
